Background

For the body, mind, and soul.

My name is Zorayda Ortiz, and as a Master Perfumer of 10 years, my sensitivity shows in my experience of working with and identifying the scents of many concentrated oils. Performing aromatherapy consultations affords me the ability to mix and match various aromas into interesting blends that inspire the spirit. My path of self-healing, meditation, and chanting has taken me to new levels of my essential oil aromatherapy creations. I have created chakra (spiritual points in the body) balancing blends by infusing organic herbs direct from my garden straight into my healing oils.

Much of my inspiration comes from experiences from my childhood and influences from brands such as Este Lauder. Years of research and endless experimentation has allowed me to create formulas of familiar scents to heal and revitalize my clients.

Whether you are a loyal customer or a new admirer of AJNA OILS, we aim to please with our scents designed to suit your pleasure. Essential oil singles, aromatherapy blends, custom blends, and fascinating unique scents all combine to evoke memory, inspire spirit, and excite the minds of many.
